Ceco Door Announces the Launch of the High Definition Embossed 1-Panel Door

Milan, TN - December 18, 2009 - Ceco Door is pleased to announce the addition of the High Definition Embossed 1-Panel door to the product line. The sharp panel radius, along with increased shadow detail, makes the HD 1-Panel door a clear choice in adding elegance to any opening. The distinct 1-panel design gives any room or entrance a sophisticated look. This product is perfect for condominiums, assisted living complexes, hotels, office buildings, and dormitories.

"Architects and Designers love the look of our 2-Panel High Definition doors and have been asking for more design options," says Dan Glover, Product Manager for the Door Group. "The new HD 1-Panel Door expands our offering of designer HD doors and provides another energy efficient, less expensive alternative to wood stile and rail. This door is unique, it really catches your eye and as one customer said 'it just looks good'."

Underneath the 18 gage exterior skins is an energy efficient polyurethane core making this door an important solution to today's building requirements. The Ceco HD1-Panel door can be UL or WH fire rated up to 3 hours (UL10C) with ADA compliant designs available as well. The design, durability, and energy efficiency makes the HD 1-Panel door a cost effective alternative to stile and rail wood doors.
